Health - Mind, Body & Soul

This week, we've been thinking about what it means to be healthy. It's a precise balance of mind, body and soul. A lesser known or acknowledged part of the body is the hormonal system. One of the most innovative and successful medical treatments that we know of for maintaining a hormonal balance is BHRT. You've been searching the whole wide world for a way to finally get healthy and make it last. You may think you've exhausted all your options, but there may be one you haven't tried. Let us introduce you to Bio-identical Hormone Replacement Therapy (BHRT).

One of the safest and most effective methods we have for hormone replacement, these replacement hormones are structured to act just like your body's natural hormones. They also metabolize just like your body's hormones, so there are no harmful side effects. Read more about our program on our website.

Instead of harmful effects, BHRT provides you with great benefits. Some of the hormones we can balance include estradiol, progesterone, DHEA, melatonin, testosterone, and thyroid hormones. Signs for women of low levels of hormones range from increased visceral fat and overall fatigue to depression, low libido and mental confusion. BHRT can boost things like skin elasticity, muscle tone, weight loss and deeper sleep.

Not only is it beneficial to your health, it is preventative of many diseases. BHRT can help protect you against Alzheimer's, heart disease and diabetes. Many of these diseases come about because our bodies are not functioning as they should. BHRT can get your insides working at optimum levels again, thus promoting health and well being. Check out more blogs about BHRT.

The Broadway Clinic offers BHRT to both men and women. We have a Hormone Well-Being Test on our website, so you can determine if BHRT is for you. You can also come in and visit us, and we will be able to assess your personal needs. Don't wait any longer to feel better!
